

I have been very concerned about this sort of issue ever since I learned about it on Bill Moyer's NOW. I am deeply worried; our ability to make informed decisions in a democratic society are dependent on a free, independent press whose diversity and high standards are its (and our) strength. Please do your job and stop this corporate take-over where money and power is the only standard.